DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 10-14, 18-27, 32-34, 38, and 43-45 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Beach et al. (USPN 6991558).

Beach et al. discloses a club head having a face component having a striking portion and return portion made of titanium metal and an aft body comprising a crown portion, ribbon portion, and a sole portion made of a plurality of pre-preg material (See Columns 4 and 5). One having ordinary skill in the art would have found it obvious to have the aft body made of a plurality of pre-preg plies, as taught by Beach et al., in order to allow for increased volume while retaining strength. Beach et al. also discloses the club head having a volume of 200 to 450 cc and a weight of less than 250 grams wherein the face and the aft body comprises 60% to 90% of the entire club head mass and the remaining 40% to 10% comprised by the weight members. This implies that the weight members weigh at most 25 to 100 grams. Beach et al. also notes that the club head must be such that the total mass and the desired moment of inertia are obtained (See Column 5, lines 22 through 33). Beach et al. also discloses the moment of inertia being greater than 300 kg*mm², or 3000g*cm² about the Izz axis (See Column 6, lines

Art Unit: 3711

42 through 51). Based on the above one having ordinary skill in the art would have found the mass of the face component and the aft body to be suitably selected to meet the above requirements and therefore, to be obvious. It is also noted that the applicant does not disclose why the annular gap between the face component and the aft body is essential in attaining the invention. Regardless of the amount of tolerance, a gap is present in Beach et al. in order to facilitate applying of the adhesive. One having ordinary skill in the art would have found it obvious to have the gap of any distance so long as the aft body is attached to the face component.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 10-14, 18-27, 32-34, 38, and 43-45 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
